

Introduction

Arab societies are undergoing progressions of changes and transformations echoing international tensions. Designers have responded in varied ways to contemporary challenges and offered perspectives that vary: utopic, myopic, developmental, constructivist, visionary, or other. As synthesizers of theory and practice designers are protagonists, capturing the moment and modelling a critical discourse. As dystopia engages utopia, and as avant-garde and traditional become intertwined, the realities of the moment make room for the future.

The First Jordanian International Conference on Architecture and Design is a multi-disciplinary forum of engagement, inviting architects, urban designers, interior designers, cinematographers, and graphic designers to engage in an in-depth investigation of the constructions of the contemporary and the potentials of future.

Conference Objectives

This Conference aims to address, through five main themes, the forthcoming opportunities and challenges which are expected to face Art and Architecture in the Arab world at different scales: local, national, as well as regional; with the emphasis on:

- Strengthen communication between the international and regional and local cultures
- Enrich the research process in the field of architecture and design arts
- Explore new and sophisticated horizons in design
- Find channels of communication between people who work in different areas of design
- Developing e-learning domains and techniques
